Astronaut Set for Rendezvous With the Stars

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. began his final 72-hour preparation today for his scheduled rendezvous with the stars next Tuesday.

He moved into the pilots' "ready room" at Cape Canaveral's Hangar S, where five previous U.S. astronauts spent their last days before their flights. Cooper will not be confined to Hangar S, but will spend much of his time there resting and studying the flight plan.

He started a low-residue diet designed to reduce excretion during the planned 34-hour mission in which he is to circle the globe 22 times. The diet, laced with ample protein, includes meat, rice, eggs, sugar, fruit juices, coffee and tea.

On Cooper's agenda today were a series of meetings to review the mission and discuss status of the Atlas booster rocket, the "Faith 7" spacecraft, the worldwide tracking network, weather and other flight phases.

Doctors were to make several medical checks in the final three days to obtain baseline data for comparison with information to be radioed during the flight.

Man's ability to perform during prolonged exposure to space weightlessness is a major objective of the flight and medical information therefore will be of primary concern.

Sunday the tracking network will be given a thorough communications check, with the possibility that Cooper's backup pilot, Alan Shepard, will sit in the spacecraft to test the control systems.

The capsule was given a thorough wringing out Friday during a simulated countdown and launching exercise. Cooper was at the controls during the mock mission when hydrogen peroxide fuel was pumped into the fuel tanks and lines. He practiced with the manual steering system and reported everything worked fine.

Faubus Invited

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus has been invited to visit Norton Air Force Base, Calif., to obtain a complete picture of the network of free-flying weapons in the nation. The invitation was extended by Maj. Joe W. Caraway, formerly of Little Rock, now deputy director of information for the Air Force Ballistics Systems Division. It was not learned whether the governor accepted.

Whitaker Is First Up Mt. Everest

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—The American who got to the top of Mt. Everest May 1 was James W. Whitaker, 32, Redmond, Wash., the expedition disclosed today. He was accompanied to the top by Sherpa Nwang Gombu, nephew of 1953 Everest hero, Tensing Norgay.

Whitaker is a climber and equipment officer. He is a Mt. Ranier National Park mountain guide who has been climbing since he began as a Boy Scout in 1943. An expedition spokesman disclosed the following names for the forthcoming attempt on the summit by the traditional south route: Harry C. Bishop, 30, Washington, D.C.; Luther G. Jerstad, 26, Eugene, Ore.; Richard Pownall, 35, Denver, Colo.; and Sherpa Girmi Dorja.

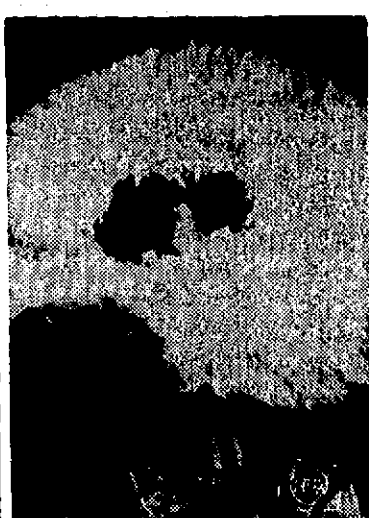

All were believed to be resting at the base camp today.

Bishop and Jerstad had been scheduled to follow Whitaker and Gombu if they failed in the May 1 attempt, the spokesman said. Expedition leader Norman G. Dyhrenfurth on this long-time personal guide, Ang Dawa IV, were not trying for the top but were in support of Whitaker and Gombu in case they got in trouble, the spokesman added.

Dyhrenfurth, 45, climbed to 28,100 feet behind Whitaker and Gombu. He said today from the base camp that the May 1 climb was a miracle because the climbers did it in high winds and extreme cold.

Weather

Arkansas: Partly cloudy today, and tomorrow. High today 84 north 22 south. Sunday, fair and warm.

WHOO?—No great snowy owl, he. It's a man I.C. Luis Rodriguez, of Encinitas, Calif., assigned to Air Defense Command squadron, Waverly Air Force Station, Iowa. He's shown at midpoint of a 50-mile hike in subzero weather. (Made it, too, in 14 1/2 hours.)

Business Is Good, Banks Are Cautious

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Bankers are cautioning today against reading too much into the spring pickup in business or into what people say they intend to do with their money.

The news has been mostly good of late. And surveys of what businessmen and consumers alike say they plan to spend have been even better.

But with their proverbial caution some bankers are warning that even if all these good things come about, it is far from adding up to a boom. And they are noting that so far most of the intentions remain just that—without many more dollars actually hitting the barrelhead.

Many Americans went too far last summer in talking about a recession that never materialized. They could go too far now in anticipating a boom that may be just as illusory.

In urging caution in interpreting recent developments, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York says in its monthly review this week, "Available data on actual business capital outlays and on orders and contract awards have not as yet shown the kind of pickup that is indicated in the surveys of spending plans."

The official survey by the Department of Commerce and Securities and Exchange Commission estimates business spending for new plant and equipment will reach $39 billion this year, up $1.8 billion from last year.

This would account for 6.8 per cent of the administration's estimate of the 1963 Gross National Product, the value of all goods and services produced. This compares with 8.5 per cent of GNP in the boom years of 1955-56. And some of the dollar rise this year must be chalked up to higher prices for plant construction and equipment.

Bankers' caution also centers on the frequent quick change in business sentiment which could trim spending plans fast if hopes built on prospects of a boom are dashed. The actual spending has not taken place yet.

Other spending plans are better backed by performance just now. Government spending at the federal, state and local levels seem sure to go on rising. Already it is a strong prop to the business recovery. Consumer spending has stayed high right along and is rising. But the gains aren't spectacular.

Consumers are the strongest prop of all. In the first quarter personal consumption spending was running at an annual rate of $369 billion, up $5.5 billion from the annual rate in the final months of 1962. More reassuring to those with goods or services to sell was the drop in the rate of personal saving. In the final months of last year individuals were adding to their savings at an annual rate of $25.8 billion. In the first three months of 1963 the rate slipped to $23.7 billion. Their disposable income after taxes had increased at a rate of $3.4 billion.

The rise in the rate of spending and the dip in the rate of saving are interpreted as showing a better feeling among consumers about the economy's prospects.

Police Seek Clues

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Little Rock police are seeking clues to the death of Pete Baker, a white man about 56 years old, found dead Tuesday in a shack on the Arkansas River. Detective Dayton Wright said Baker had been beaten. A friend of the victim found the body. Wright said details of the incident were sketchy.

They Found Him a Boa Constrictor

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Officials of the National Science Fair-International were surprised when Bill Hortzman, 17, Riverside, Calif., asked for a boa constrictor, but they found one for him at a pet shop.

Hortzman said the boa used in his exhibit, "Pathological Study of Boidae," froze to death during the flight from California.

He took no chances with the new snake. He took it to his motel Monday night for safekeeping.

No Romance in Lawrence of Arabia

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the oldest Hollywood truisms holds that a film must have a strong love interest to be a box office success.

But "Lawrence of Arabia," which won an Oscar as the year's best movie, avoided the boy-meets-girl theme for four sand-filled hours. Where the late Cecil B. DeMille would have employed hundreds of thinly clad actresses, Producer Sam Spiegel relied on hundreds of camels.

Now another producer, John Sturges, has gambled against Hollywood tradition by turning out a picture that has 600 heroes—and not a single heroine.

Sturges' kiss-free epic, "The Great Escape," tells in almost documentary detail one of the great adventure yarns of all time. It is the story of how 600 captured Allied airmen plotted for months to escape from a German prison camp in the second World War.

Under the noses of Nazi guards, they sank 30-foot-deep shafts and dug out one but three tunnels.

Seventy-six men finally crawled through one 348-foot tunnel to temporary freedom. Only three men finally escaped, and 50 of the 73 recaptured airmen were shot to death by their enraged Nazi pursuers.

As one who rose from private to captain and won four battle stars himself in the Air Force, Sturges says he felt a personal compulsion to avoid making war look glamorous.

"Films that do that are dishonest," he said. "War isn't all sweet Dixie. War separates the men and the boys, and then kills the men. Most of the goof-offs survive."

Since war then is such an unglamorous ordeal in misery, fear and loneliness, why should a picture be made about war at all, even one that tells the truth about it? Sturges, who turned out 45 documentaries and training films during the last war, said he had brooded over this a great deal.

"Most good stories involve taking a character that interests you, subjecting him to pressure, and showing the result," he replied. "War certainly does that."

Good Rains Help Crops in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas crops were stimulated by good rains last week but they need warmer weather for proper development, the weekly weather and crop bulletin said today.

The bulletin is issued by the Agriculture Department, the University of Arkansas, Agricultural Extension Service and the Weather Bureau.

Many fields in the delta were too wet to work most of last week but additional plantings will soon be in full swing if there is no more rain.

Cool, damp weather has hindered germination and growth of early planted cotton. A freeze the beginning of May killed some grapes and tender vegetables in north Arkansas.

A good strawberry crop is in full swing. Cattle are showing improvement in condition as more pasture becomes available.

Wet soil has slowed cotton planting which is more than half complete. Two-thirds of the rice crop has been seeded. Less than 10 per cent of the soybeans have been planted but preparation of land is well along.

Service Request Before the PSC

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission took under advisement Monday Arkansas Power and Light Co.'s request for authority to serve a small rural area near Pine Bluff.

The territory now is assigned to the C and L Electric Co-operative which did not resist AP&L's petition at a hearing Monday.

AP&L said C and L does not have any customers in the area.

Tips From Chicken Queen

Bobbye Campbell

By Mary Anita Laseter
Star Feature Writer

"To smile just right for the camera, say 'Chicken,'" advises Mrs. Bobbye Campbell, Arkansas Chicken Cooking Queen, who is in her final phase of activities for the honor she won last June in Little Rock.

"This has been an exciting year," the Queen said, "and I learned not to be afraid of a camera or an airplane. Both are necessary for the publicity commitments of the Arkansas Chicken Cooking Queen."

Her royal year began June 9, 1962, when Mrs. Bobbye Campbell was crowned. The first assignment came shortly on the heels of her newly won honor, when she attended the opening of the Gerber Baby Food Plant in Ft. Smith and prepared a banquet tray for the guest of honor, Dan Gerber.

She has a steady hand under pressure, which is fortunate as she has had to prepare her prize-winning dish, "Chicken Kiev," before a TV camera more than once. Homemakers aren't the only ones to whom she has taught her recipe.

At the Hotel Continental in Kansas City last summer while participating in the International Sertoma Convention, Mrs. Campbell taught the chef how to make her specialty. The chef, Woody Hall, a native of Redfield, Ark., was happy to learn the secrets of "Chicken Kiev." He, like all those connected with food and cooking whom she met over her period of reign, was one whose friendship will be lasting long after she ceases to be Chicken Cooking Queen.

By the way, the chicken used in the Arkansas Drumstick Party for the Sertoma Convention was flown to Kansas City from Arkansas. That's one time the "robin" (or chicken) didn't have to "walk to Missouri" but "COULD afford to fly."

From "Miss Portugal" to gubernatorial candidates, well-known personalities were met by the Queen at Mt. Nebo in July at the annual "Chicken Fry" there. She and the Arkansas Poultry Princesses were at the same gathering, and they appeared together quite often during the year's activities. These included, of course, being at the Arkansas Poultry Federation booth at the state fair in Little Rock.

Anytime poultry was mentioned in any form during events in the state, the Chicken Cooking Queen was there to help promote it. She distributed her recipe and others using chicken at the Arkansas Poultry Processors Assn. booth during the Ark. Restaurant Assn. meeting in Hot Springs. She helped with the Eggstravaganza in Little Rock this year which kicked off the promotion for this year's contest for the Arkansas Chicken Cooking Queen.

Her two little daughters have been quite proud of their mother, who has worn the crown and banner proclaiming her title on many occasions. The Queen, the personal secretary to Mrs. Freda Greenan of Corn Belt Hatcheries, could not have been able to carry out her royal duties without the understanding assistance of her boss either, she told us.

The deadline for entry in this year's contest is May 15. It is open to all homemakers 18 years or older, expect professional home economists, officers and directors of the Arkansas Poultry Federation, and contest committeemen and their families.

Oh, yes. Former Chicken Cooking Queens can't enter either. "If it weren't for that fact, I'd be in the contest for 1963 Arkansas Chicken Cooking Queen," said Bobbye Campbell.

Silver Tea Planned by DAR Chapter

Mrs. George W. Peck, newly installed regent of John Cain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, presided over the May meet held this week at Hotel Barlow. She announced the Chapter would hold a silver tea on June 6 in the home of Mrs. Herbert Stephens in Southland Heights.

The money derived from the tea will be used to further DAR objectives. Mrs. Frank McLarty, Mrs. Robert LaGrone, Mrs. Jud Martindale and Miss Mamie Twitchee were appointed to complete arrangements.

A letter was read from Mrs. E. J. Todd, manager of the Caddo District, announcing a district meeting on Flag Day, June 14 at the Town House in Texarkana at 10 a. m. Mrs. Peck urged those wishing reservations to contact her immediately.

The President General's message was given by Mrs. Jud Martindale. Mrs. G. E. Tyler reported on National Defense.

Mrs. Richards Howard, who attended the Continental Congress in Washington, D. C. April 15-19, told convention highlights.

Wynne Votes in Bonds for Plant

WYNNE, Ark. (AP)—A $150,000 bond issue to finance a building and equipment for the Halstead Metal Products Co. was approved at Wynne Tuesday by a vote of 301 for to one against.

No tax was involved in the issue. The bonds will be issued under Act 9 of 1960.

Halstead will eventually employ about 600 persons in the manufacture of copper tubing. The firm has about 500 employees at two Pennsylvania plants.

Post Office Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Services Administration will receive bids June 6 at its Dallas office for lighting modifications and interior painting of the Texarkana, Ark. post office and courthouse building. The work will cost an estimated $51,000.

U.S. Believes Russia Revising Foreign Policy

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department believes the Soviet Union is revamping its foreign policy and may become even more difficult to deal with in the months ahead.

The Kremlin, a department spokesman said Friday, is seriously considering mending its rift with Red China, and is likely to press harder on a policy of Communist expansion abroad—particularly in Africa and Southeast Asia.

The prediction of new cold winds from Russia was voiced by a State Department official, who declined to be named, in a discussion with newsmen.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, he said, seems to be in no danger of being toppled but is facing critical economic troubles at home as well as various difficulties abroad.

But he expects that a searching appraisal of policy now under way will result in Russia's concentrating on its revolutionary goals among the "have-not" nations, rather than concentrating on furthering the revolution at home.

That has been one of the sore points between Moscow and Peking, Red China, denouncing Moscow as cowardly, has demanded that Russia press communism more aggressively in the developing nations.

And this hard line has been attracting supporters in the Communist camp. The State Department official said the Indonesia Communist party, for instance, appears to be swinging toward Red China.

Also, he said, Soviet officials have been disappointed with the results of Russian aid in such countries as Mali, Guinea, Iraq and the Congo.

In patching up its troubles with Red China, Russia may also revise its tactics in Southeast Asia, the official suggested. This could mean more Soviet support for Communists in Laos and South Viet Nam.

Keynote Address

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Dr. Randall T. Klemme of Omaha, Neb., vice president of the Northern Natural Gas Co., will make the keynote address at the Southern Area Conference of the Financial Executives Institute, which opens today. Some of the nation's leading financial experts are expected to attend the event.

Crazy Killer Hits Again in Boston

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A curtain of fear hung over the Greater Boston area today in the wake of the brutal slaying of a 26-year-old music student found in her apartment off Harvard Square.

The body of Miss Beverly Samans of Beckley, W. Va., a graduate student at Boston University who was preparing for an audition with the Metropolitan Opera Co., was found Wednesday night.

The slaying revived fears caused by the eight unsolved stranglings of women in Greater Boston since June.

Dr. Peter A. Delmonico, medical examiner, said cause of death was a stab wound through the heart. There were 15 stab wounds on the body, he said.

"A person who would inflict brutality of this sort was not of sound mind," Delmonico said. The doctor said there was no evidence of rape.

Two kerchiefs and a nylon stocking were knotted around the victim's throat in an apparent strangling attempt. But "they did not cause death," the doctor said. He placed the time of death as sometime after 1 p. m., Sunday night. A neighbor reported seeing the victim alive at about that time. Miss Samans' body, clad in a negligee, her hands tied behind her back, was found on a bed in her two-room apartment by police after they were called by Oliver Chamberlain, 33, an acquaintance of the girl.

Police said Chamberlain told them another man, not identified, called him and said he had received no response at the girl's apartment.

There was no sign of a struggle or of forced entry, police said. They found the front door unlocked.

The brunette student, who lived alone was last reported seen Sunday, police said.

Joe Doe Pays $93 Income Tax

ATLANTA (AP)—"John Doe Anonymous" has paid the Georgia Revenue Department $93 in income tax.

The payment received Monday was in seven U.S. postal money orders issued at Chattanooga, Tenn. The return listed the payee's taxable income for 1962 at $12,750.

Fred Cox, income tax supervisor, speculated that the money might be from moonshine whisky sales, a lottery or some other form of gambling—or just income the sender didn't want his wife to know about.

Intelligence Gap on Cuba Developing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—U.S. surveillance of Soviet military activity in Cuba has been curtailed and an intelligence gap is developing, the Miami Herald said today.

In a dispatch from Washington, the Herald cited three instances of decreased intelligence-gathering:

1. Low-level reconnaissance flights have been suspended since Feb. 9.

2. High-level U2 reconnaissance flights are being kept at a minimum.

3. Anti-Castro guerrilla reports are being stifled by the U.S. crackdown on American-based raids against Cuba.

Military leaders in Washington were described as upset over three developments in Cuba about which they feel they have insufficient information:

1. The appearance of a large number of Russian tents, some of them big enough to enclose a missile and its launcher.

2. Heavy transport traffic to and from areas where large caves are known to be. Cuba exiles have long maintained that the Russians are hiding missiles in Cuba's numerous caves.

3. Construction of a rail line to a major Soviet camp area.

"These showed up in recent high-level photos, but beyond bringing the disturbing discoveries to light no detailed information has been obtained—due to the lack of low-level reconnaissance flights, the drastic curbs on raiders and the adverse effect that has had on contacts with, and the operations of, the underground," said the Herald article.

The newspaper said the slowdown in intelligence gathering is the result of what it called President Kennedy's determination that nothing be done to rock the boat in Cuba.

Congressional leaders have been told that the President believes his conciliatory course will lead to the withdrawal of more Russian troops from Cuba, the paper said.

Bondsmen to Return Surpluses

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Three Little Rock Bond dealers proposed to refund bonds and free surplus money in the Little Rock Water Department at a meeting of the Little Rock City Manager board Monday night.

The board delayed acting on the proposal because Mayor Byron Morse said he wanted to get the "full co-operation of the Waterworks Commission."

Instead of adjourning the meeting, Morse recessed it so the board can be called back into session before the next regular meeting to act on the proposal.

The board and the commission issued a joint statement April 21 informally authorizing the bond dealers to proceed with the plan.

The plan would refinance two issues of Water Department bonds that are outstanding. At the same time it would free some of the money in the Water Department's reserve and let it go to the city's general fund.

Morse said Little Rock is in dire need of ways to finance port facilities and pay raises for city employees.

The refinancing plan was proposed by the Dabbs Sullivan Co., Stephens, Inc., and T. J. Raney and Sons.

A contract for the construction of a DowSmith, Inc., plant and office building in Little Rock was awarded to Pickens - Bond Construction Co. of Little Rock.

The firm had a bid of $1,621,888 for the project. N. P. Alessi Inc., of North Little Rock had a slightly lower bid. Both firms had claimed a three per cent preference allowed Arkansas firms for public work, but the board disallowed the allowance for Alessi because part of the work had been subcontracted to a Houston, Tex. firm.

Negroes Win Concessions at Birmingham

By PHIL ORAMOUS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Jubilant Negro integration leaders mapped plans today for a voter registration drive on the heels of what they considered an overwhelming victory in Birmingham's six-week-long integration effort.

City officials, however, scoffed at a biracial citizen's committee agreement on proposals to end the conflict, which has seen more than 2,000 Negroes arrested and fire hoses and police dogs brought into play to control seething throngs of Negro demonstrators.

Integration forces—led by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta—had kept the city virtually under siege since April 3.

As the Negroes began gathering volunteers for a door-to-door registration campaign, city leaders were adamant in their statements that the agreement was not binding on them.

Staunch segregationist Police Commissioner Eugene Connor, who directed the arrests and repulsed the crowds, said the agreement was "the lyngest face-saving statement that ever was issued."

"We've licked them and licked them good," he declared.

Connor, however, said he would not interfere if businessmen wished to integrate their lunch counters—one of the key points King said was agreed upon by the group.

King said the agreement provided:

1. Desegregation of lunch counters, rest rooms, fitting rooms and drinking fountains in downtown stores in planned stages within the next 90 days.

2. The upgrading and hiring of Negroes on a non-discriminatory basis, including the hiring of Negroes as clerks and salesmen within the next 60 days.

3. Arrangements for the release of all persons arrested during racial demonstrations on bond or personal recognizance.

4. Communications between Negroes and white persons to be re-established within the next two weeks.

The agreement has no official status. The committee was composed of a representative group of businessmen, according to its chairman, Sidney Smyer, a lawyer and real estate broker. Smyer is the only person on the group whose name has been made public. No reason has been given for the anonymity of the committee.

Mayor Albert Boutwell says the agreement is not binding on the newly-chosen mayor and City Council.

Commissioner Mayor Arthur Hanes called the agreement hogwash, and said he would order the arrest of any persons violating the city's segregation codes.

Church School Students Ask Bus Ride

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—About 500 Roman Catholic grade school pupils, parents and supporters marched through suburban Florissant today waving American flags and carrying signs urging school bus rides for parochial students.

Robert Lowery, aide to the Florissant police chief, told The Associated Press that the group obtained a parade permit and asked for a police escort Wednesday.

Eight police officers escorted the group and helped them across intersections. A police motorcycle led the marchers from the Catholic Sacred Heart School to Combs Grade School, where some parochial school students had registered last week.

Demonstrations by parents of parochial school children who want their children to ride public school buses began last week in central Missouri and the St. Louis area. They protested action by Missouri's Legislature which has tabled a bill giving the parochial school students the right to ride public school buses.

The protests, including enrollment of parochial students spread across the state in a few days.

Principal Herbert White met the marchers in Florissant today at the door and directed those who wanted to register for next fall to the school gymnasium.

At least 75 parochial school students have already registered at Combs.

Coming Soon to Saenger

The restaurant atop the Space Needle at the Seattle World's Fair forms the unusual setting for a romantic scene between Elvis Presley and Joan O'Brien in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "It Happened at the World's Fair." ## Reports Pope Has Cancer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Sun says today, "It is generally accepted in Vatican circles that the Pope has cancer, that he knows it, and that he does not expect to live a long time."
The Sun, in a Rome dispatch by Weldon Wallace, says this summary of Pope John XXIII's condition came from an official in a position to know the situation.
"Reportedly the malignancy involves the stomach," the dispatch adds.
"Recently, he has been troubled by pains that have awakened him at night and required him to take sedatives. Also he is reported to have had a 'crisis' several days ago. The nature of this emergency was not described."
"His general condition is complicated by a prostate tumor and by debilities of age—he is 81."
The Pope's doctor has in the past denied that he had cancer.

Olive Jackson with Mrs. R. D. Haynes, Co-Hostess on Tuesday, May 14th. All members and associate members are urged to be present.

The Builders Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church will meet in the Educational Building for a Pot Luck meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Roy Seewald, Mrs. O. F. Lloyd, and Mrs. R. M. Jones. All members and associate members are asked to be present.

Tuesday Bridge Club
Mrs. R. L. Braoch was hostess for a meeting of her Tuesday Bridge Club on May 7. Compotes holding pink roses were seen at vantage points in the home.
The two tables of players included one club guest, Mrs. A. K. Holloway. Mrs. George Robinson was high scorer and Mrs. Lyle Brown was second high.

Alpha Delta Meets
In Home of Mrs. Hays
Mrs. Helen Hays and Mrs. Louise Fuller were co-hostesses for a meeting of the Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society Tuesday, May 7 in the Hays home. Lovely sprong flowers were used as decoration.
Mrs. Marie Holt, president, conducted the business meeting. Delegates to the state convention in Little Rock in April reported on it. Mrs. Mildred McPherson led in repeating the Collect.
In celebration of the birthday of Delta Kappa Gamma in Arkansas, Mrs. Margaret Medders led the group in singing the "DKG Birthday Song." "The History of Delta Kappa Gamma," state and international, was given by Mrs. Alta Breed and Mrs. Mary Nell Turner. The book, "Our Heritage," was displayed for the members.
The hostesses served a salad plate with coffee or cold drinks to 24 including these guests from the newly organized Nashville Chapter, Miss Jo Dildy, Mrs. Lucy Rigsby, Mrs. Evelyn Cobb, Mrs. Juanita Burkhardt, and Mrs. Virginia James.

The skirt of satin was highlighted with beaded lace appliques and drifted to the full back. Her veil of imported al-lusion fell from a tiara of lace and pearls. She carried a white orchid on top a white Bible.

HER MOTHER-IN-LAW A LULU, SAYS THIS WIFE
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: You printed a letter from a wife who said anyone who had mother-in-law trouble was a dope. So I am a dope!
Well, I wonder how this virtuous daughter-in-law would feel if her mother-in-law said there was no place for her in the family plot—only for her husband.
In other words I can't rest beside my man when we die. My mother-in-law is always right, even when you prove she's wrong.
I envy the "good" daughter-in-law in spite of her calling me a dope I like your answer to her hum of praise for mothers-in-law: "That depends largely upon the mother-in-law. You are lucky in yours." I can't wait for the day when my luck will change.
—Hopeful Daughter-in-law
Dear Hopeful: Since where you and your husband lie after death is important to you, quietly purchase a plot of your own and request in your will that you two be buried there. Give your mother-in-law the silent treatment. It's the best answer.

er-in-law the silent treatment. It's the best answer.

Dear Helen: My girl friend and I are just like sisters and have double-dated two boys for five months. One evening we started a crazy card game in which she kissed the guy I dated and I kissed the one she went with. Now the boys want to switch partners permanently but we don't. What should we do? —Dimples and Tucky
Dear D. and T.: You're paying the price of your experiment. Better find yourselves some new boy friends before this becomes too involved. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "are You Sure It's Love?"

Dear Helen: I go along with you 100 per cent on your reply to those hotter-than-hot prudes who damn a strip-teaser. It is true, "Evil to him who evil thinks." I just don't see how some people can do and say the things they do, then go smiling to church on Sunday. May God bless you and your loved ones. —A Reader
Dear Reader: Thanks!
Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cites Navy Needs
TOKYO (AP) — U.S. Navy Secretary Fred Korth said today the Navy may face a critical period of ship obsolescence in five years unless there is "greater recognition of our needs" in 1965 appropriations for new ships.
Korth, who arrived Wednesday on a Far Eastern tour, told newsmen the proposed 1964 budget provides for 41 new ships and 35 conversions.

A DEAD ENDING

Chapter XXXVI

The battered George Gottlieb, still unexplained, was gone. I heard Cash tell someone he'd been taken to Bellevue for medical attention.

Nichols poured himself a drink. Matt said, shyly, that he'd like a cup of coffee if there was one handy.

"Stomach's kind of upside down," he said, with a shy smile. "I - I don't like heights."

"Sweet Sue!" Nichols said, and swallowed his drink.

"I need to know about Gottlieb," Cash said. "I'm holding him on a homicide charge on your say-so, Mr. Higby."

Matt told his story, simply and without flourishes. He holed up in a little fleabag hotel somewhere on the upper West Side.

Fortunately there was a television set in the room. Shortly after 11 o'clock he had it turned on for news - just in case. That was when the report of Canada's murder came over.

But when George Gottlieb's description came over on television, Matt did do something. He went to where he knew Gottlieb lived and he found him there. He accused him of murdering Canada.

"I took him apart," Matt said quietly. "I'm not a kid any more but I still know how. I was a little rough, I guess, but the only fighting I ever did was for keeps."

Our aging handball player must have been pretty frightening, because Gottlieb spilled and spilled. Young Hooper had gotten in trouble with the Book. He owed the boys over $20,000 he didn't have.

Dennis Hooper had a way of getting the money. He'd picked up a girl in a bar somewhere on the East Side. She'd do anything for him. When he'd mentioned his troubles - and dramatized his own danger pretty thoroughly - the girl said she had a way to help him.

The girl was, of course, Dawn. She knew about some documents her mother had which would make General Hooper come crawling.

Dennis saw that he could milk his uncle for a lot more than the $20,000. He had no intention of turning the documents over to Gottlieb for the mob. But far more important in the evolution of tragedy was the fact that when they got back to Dennis' apartment with the documents and looked them over, Gottlieb found that he had 10 times more reason to damage the General than he'd known and a way to bleed him over a long and tortuous period of time.

When Dennis refused to hand over the documents, after he'd called his uncle, Gottlieb - probably hopped up to the ears - brained him with the candlestick and took off with the papers.

Gottlieb knew that if the existence of the documents were revealed, his hold over the General would be gone. Following me, he overheard my conversation with Canada and he raced ahead to silence Canada. He had no reason - he was just a hopped up maniac.

Matt put down his empty coffee cup. "So I brought him in," he said. "Actually I was headed for police headquarters with him when the taxi driver told us he had to detour around this section."

about My MOTHER

Most all other things come by twos, threes, or even by dozens. See the roses, the stars, the sunsets.

Ah, there's brothers and sisters, too, and uncles and aunts and cousins a plenty. But in all the whole big world there's just one mother. There's much more about my mother and good it all must be. In fact she's as good as goodness is, and that's enough for me. Her words are kind, her faith is strong, and her hope as high as the highest tree. You can see from here that she is a dear, — she means everything to me. Not one single emotion comes nearer the divine than my mother's love for me. She is the soaring cloud of radiant rapture that lifts me to new attempts and the strength I need to see me through. I'm taking my mother to church this Mother's Day -- what about you???

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us
support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
